JOSEPH MARTIN WILL RUN AGAIN

ADOPTED AS LIBERAL
CANDIDATE IN LONDON

Liberal-Labor Representative Wins in Bye-Election in Derbyshire.

(Special to the Times.)
London, July 16.—Joseph Martin has been adopted Liberal candidate for East St. Pancras, vice the sitting of Liberal Member, Lea, who is retiring. Normal Liberal majority about 2,000. The Mid Derbyshire bye-election resulted in the election of Hancock, the Liberal labor candidate, by 6,735, over Samuel Creswell, Conservative, who polled 4,382. At the general election the Liberal candidate polled 7,065 to 3,475 for his Tory opponent.

STRIKERS ARE IN UGLY MOOD

CAR COMPANY WILL
TRY TO RUN PLANT

State Constabulary Ordered to Preserve Peace at Any Cost.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Pittsburg, Pa., July 16.—Cars bearing office employees to the plant of the Pressed Steel Car Company at McKee's rocks, were stopped to-day by the workmen, who are on strike against the company and other similar methods used to prevent the corporation to continue its business. The workmen used no violence and leaders of the strike said that their methods of fighting the company would be peaceable hereafter. The first car stopped by the strikers to-day was filled with office employees of the steel car company. These men were compelled to alight and ordered to return to their homes. Most of them obeyed the demand.

Pickets have been placed around the car company's plant and every effort will be made by the strikers to prevent the resumption of operations. The company has not attempted to start work at the plant as yet but the strikers are afraid that outside labor will be shipped in.

Although the strike leaders are determined to prevent violence it is feared that the striking workmen cannot be held in check in the event work is resumed at the plant.

A company of state constabulary is stationed at the plant and is under orders to prevent violence at any cost.

Trouble Feared.
Pittsburg, Pa., July 16.—(Later.)—Giving up the idea of reaching an agreement with the strikers, the general manager of the car company announced late this morning that an attempt to resume operations will be made this afternoon. The strikers were in an ugly mood after they heard this news and trouble is feared.

Orders were issued to-day for the state troops "shoot to kill if any man reaches for his gun." At a mass-meeting held by the strikers to-day it was decided to appoint a committee of fifteen to present their grievances to the officials of the company. This will be done some time this afternoon.

SHAH'S REIGN IS NEARING END

SEEKS REFUGE IN RUSSIAN LEGATION

Little Possibility of Being Able to Retain Throne
of Persia.

(Times Leased Wire.)
London, July 16.—A dispatch from Teheran states that the Shah early to-day took refuge in the Russian legation and a deputation from the British and Russian legations were sent to inform the nationalist leaders of the fact.

It is believed that the surrender of the city by the royalist forces under General Liahoff will take place before the day is ended.

According to reliable information, negotiations are now in progress looking to that end.

Large forces of nationalists to-day made a successful attack on the two south gates of the city and are now in full possession.

May Be Forced to Abdicate.

Vienna, July 16.—Messages received here from Teheran to-day declare there is no possible chance of the Shah retaining the throne.

FORTUNE FOR PRISONER

Man Convicted for Horse Stealing Now
Tries to Gain Parole.

Sacramento, Cal., July 16.—Heir to a fortune of $25,000, James Murphy, serving a sentence in the state prison at Folsom for horse stealing, has launched a campaign to gain a parole so that he may enjoy his legacy.

Murphy was sent to Folsom for stealing a horse from the sheriff's stables in San Francisco. He was sentenced to three years. Before the expiration of his sentence he escaped and repeated his crime. He was given three additional years.

Recently a wealthy relative of Murphy died in Los Angeles bequeathing him $25,000. District Attorney Eugene Washburn, of this city, has interested himself in Murphy's case.

EARTHQUAKE IN SOUTHERN GREECE

SEVERAL VILLAGES
HAVE BEEN WRECKED

Death-Roll Will Probably Be Heavy—Communication Interrupted.

(Times Leased Wire.)

London, July 16.—According to an Athens dispatch to a London news bureau, a violent earthquake has occurred in Southern Greece. Twenty persons are reported killed and 100 injured in one village and three other places are said to have suffered heavily. Heavy damage to property was done.

It is believed that when details are received the casualties will be found to be much greater than so far reported. The earthquake occurred in the province of Elis.

PROPERTY LOSS HEAVY

Athens, Greece, July 16.—Reports received here to-day indicate that the death list in Elis province in Southern Greece, which was shaken by a heavy earthquake yesterday, will greatly exceed twenty persons, the number first reported here.

Communication with the stricken province is interrupted and details of the disaster are meagre.

Several villages are known to have been wrecked and it is thought that the property loss is heavy.

SCHOOL BOYS ARRESTED

Four Are Held by Police Charged With Assault on Murder.

Guernville, Cal., July 16.—Four boys, students of Oakland High school, are under arrest in this city, charged with assault on murder. The boys are Grover Peterson, Harold Dow, and Richard and William Dunn.

The alleged assault, on which the charge was based, was made upon Harold McLane, 22 years of age, of this city. C. A. McLane, the boy's father, claimed that the quartette was heard to make threats upon the life of his son.

NEXT CONVENTION AT MONTREAL

TEACHERS TO MEET
NEAR NEW INSTITUTE

Officers Elected by Educational Association at Last Night's Meeting.

The next meeting place of the Dominion Educational Association will be held in Montreal in order to be near the Macdonald Institute. That idea was not publicly expressed at the final gathering of the association last night, but throughout the meeting it had been canvassed, and it was well known to every delegate that the reason they were going to Montreal was that they might have a glimpse into the inner life of the institution, which will in the future have such widespread effects on the whole country. The choice was unanimous. There were no rival claims.

In order that the whole programme might be in keeping with the idea, the president and secretary were chosen from the staff of the Macdonald Institute. The following is the complete list of officers for next year:

President, Dr. J. W. Robertson, Quebec; vice-president, A. H. McKay, Nova Scotia; general secretary, J. C. Lynde, Quebec; treasurer, Dr. A. J. Dale, Quebec; directors, Dr. D. Solan, Nova Scotia; W. S. Carter, New Brunswick; Theodore Ross, Prince Edward Island; R. Fletcher, Manitoba; Dr. W. C. Murray, Saskatchewan; Dr. A. McVillie, Alberta; Dr. A. Robinson, British Columbia; Prof. Marshall, Prof. Norman, Dr. Witt and J. C. Glasgow, Ontario; G. W. Parmelee and H. J. Silver, Quebec.

The committee appointed the previous day to report upon the matter of improving the work of the association reported as follows:

"Your committee appointed to consider the suggestion as printed on the convention programme, for making the Dominion Educational Association a more influential factor in Canadian education, beg to report as follows: We find that the carrying out of the suggestion made depends almost entirely on the ability of the association to secure and pay for the services of a permanent secretary; and we therefore recommend the appointment of a committee of nine members, one from each province, with power to add to their numbers, to consider the whole question in its various aspects, financial and otherwise, to interview the governments of the different provinces and of the Dominion and ascertain whether ways and means can be found to support a permanent secretary of the association to present a complete report at the next meeting of the association.

"We therefore recommend that the following constitute the committee: Professor J. W. Robertson, Quebec; W. P. Argue, British Columbia; A. M. Scott, Alberta; W. C. Murray, Saskatchewan; W. A. McIntyre, Manitoba; Prof. W. S. Miller, Ontario; G. W. Hamilton, New Brunswick; Dr. D. Solan, Nova Scotia; Principal S. Robertson, Prince Edward Island."

The report was moved by A. M. Scott and seconded by Inspector Gillis and carried. The following were the members of the committee who sub-

CONTROVERSY OVER BIG GUNS

EXPERTS DIFFER
REGARDING CALIBRE

Question of Ordnance for New Dreadnought Now Before Admiralty.

(Times Leased Wire.)
London, July 16.—British naval experts are at war over the desirability of arming the four "provisional" Dreadnoughts in this year's battleship building programme with 13.5 inch guns.

From both mechanical and financial standpoints the question is most serious. As a mechanical proposition, the advocates of the new calibre ordnance maintain that a 13.5 inch bore will be so much more effective than a 12 inch, as to give Great Britain once more the enormous naval lead it formerly possessed over all other sea powers, but partly lost through the economies of the present administration.

Opponents of the change hold, however, that the advantage the 13.5 inch 1,220 pound shell will possess in weight over the 12 inch 850 pound will be discounted by the loss in rapidity of fire. There is a limit to effective weight, they argue, and the record of the 6 inch gun is cited in support of this contention. Of its calibre, it is considered on all sides the 6 inch weapon was one of the best ever produced. It threw 100 pound projectiles at the rate of eight, or even ten, a minute. When gunnery experts undertook to double this weight, however, and produced 7.5 and 8 inch guns for the purpose, the rapidity of fire was reduced by nearly one half. The larger weapons have now, as a result, been entirely abandoned, the 6 inch gun remaining alone in the field.

Supporters of the 13.5 inch cannon have an answer to this argument. At short range, they own, one big gun is about as good as another, but they contend that at 10,000 yards and over calibre and weight must tell, and that future naval battles will be almost altogether at long range, because torpedoing has become such an easy matter as to render fighting—except from a long distance, an impossibility. Though it may take twice as long to load a 13.5 as a 12 inch gun, which can be fired at the rate of about one round a minute, it is maintained, therefore, that the former is the most serviceable weapon.

Officials of the admiralty, who, as distinguished from outside gunnery experts, are understood to believe in the 13.5 inch guns, are nevertheless doubtful of adopting them on grounds of economy. The first Dreadnought is realized now to have been the most expensive naval departure ever undertaken in England, not alone because the type of the ship is enormously costly, but because it rendered all previous types practically obsolete.

It is feared that the super-Dreadnoughts, if as successful as their supporters claim, will prove, in the same way, even more expensive than their predecessors.

SHOCK IN CALIFORNIA

Downville, Cal., July 16.—No damage was reported to-day as the result of an earthquake which shook the country in this section yesterday. The shock lasted three seconds. It was accompanied by a loud roaring noise.

ATTORNEY ASKED TO SUBSTANTIATE CHARGES

Washington Bar Association to Deal With Allegations Against Judges.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Aberdeen, Wash., July 16.—At the meeting of the State Bar Association, to be held here July 23rd-25th, Herbert N. De Wolfe, the Tacoma attorney, whose charges against members of the state Supreme court resulted in an investigation by a House committee of the legislature, will be asked to appear and substantiate his charges with proof. Failing in this, De Wolfe will likely face disbarment proceedings. Judge J. W. Robinson, of Olympia, will also be asked to furnish the association proof of the accusations he made against the Supreme court in the primary campaign last fall. In addition, the association proposes to make a subject of inquiry the causes of the retirement of former Supreme Court Judge Milo Root, the indictment at Spokane of Judge Gordon on a charge of embezzlement in connection with his former service with the Great Northern railway and the relations existing between the two while Root occupied a seat on the supreme bench.

SUES HER FORMER HUSBAND FOR ALIMONY

Lady Nora Jenner Begins Action Against San Francisco Millionaire.

(Times Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Cal., July 16.—Lady Nora Helen Gertrude Jenner, wife of Sir Wm. Jenner, physician to King Edward, and daughter of the late British Field Marshal Stewart, is plaintiff in a suit filed in this city to collect $27,160 from Bertram Samuel Murphy, millionaire claimant of this city.

Lady Jenner was divorced from Murphy in 1905, and the money that is the object of the suit, she alleged, is due her as alimony from November 18th, 1908, to March 15th, 1909. Murphy's brother, Daniel E. Murphy, also is named as a defendant, the allegation having been made in the suit that he conspired with his brother to avoid payment of the alimony by a realty transfer to which both were parties.

The present suit of Lady Jenner is the second brought against Murphy in two years. The first litigation resulted in a judgment against the Murphy by the appellate court for $9,000. The new suit is filed to compel the payment of this amount, plus the accruing alimony.

Both the Murphys are well known in London and Paris. A sister, Theresa, is the wife of Sir Charles Michael Welsley.

FIVE CENT FARE ON ESQUIMALT ROUTE

Board of Trade Secures Valuable Concession from Company—More New Rolling Stock Promised
---Agreement With City.

From August 1st the street railway fare between the city and Esquimalt will be the same as on the other lines—five cents or one ticket.

This concession was announced to the Times by T. Blundell Brown, one of the English directors of the B. C. Electric Railway Company, who is over here to look into matters connected with the company's big scheme for developing power at Jordan river. He and his fellow director, Mitchell Ellis, had just concluded a conference with the council of the Board of Trade, and the concession was made as a result of the arguments put up by President Simon Leiser and the other members of the council.

Mr. Brown gave the Times the assurance that the company is fully alive to the needs of Victoria and to the possibilities which are before both the city and itself as soon as an ample supply of cheap power is available. In the matter of rolling stock and other improvements, he stated that Victoria is first on the list for attention. The new cars which have been recently placed in commission on the city lines will be followed by others of the same modern type.

Speaking of the agreement which is now before the City Council, Mr. Brown expressed his confidence that what appeared to be a misunderstanding would be removed, and an agreement reached which would be satisfactory to the citizens and the company.

The latter, he said, only desired to be assured that it would not be met by competition from the city or from any company assisted or aided in any way by the city. This was all the protection it asked; competition from any rival company coming in here in the ordinary way of business it was prepared to meet.

The meeting was a lengthy one, and was attended by the president, Simon Leiser, T. W. Paterson, Richard Hall, John A. Turner, George Carter, C. H. Lugin, James Forman, A. W. McCurdy, J. L. Beckwith and B. C. Mess. The two directors were accompanied by A. T. Goward, the local manager of the company.

AGREEMENT IS NOW IN SIGHT

CITY AND ELECTRIC COMPANY TERMS

City Barrister Expects to Reach Settlement Without Trouble.

There is every prospect that an agreement will be reached between the city and the B. C. Electric Company before the time limit set by the tramway company is reached. This limit is July 20th. The council at its meeting last evening met with W. J. Taylor, K. C., the city barrister, and considered the questions at issue between the city and the company. After a little discussion it was thought that there should be no difficulty in reaching an amicable settlement so that the tramway company might be able to carry out its proposed extension of works in and about Victoria, the city agreeing on the other hand not to enter into direct competition without first offering to buy out the company's works.

Mr. Taylor pointed out that the company seemed to object to a proviso, which it was proposed to insert in the agreement, to the effect that the city was not to be precluded from authorizing or granting a charter to another company to provide power and light in the city in competition with the B. C. Electric Company. He pointed out that the clause in the agreement, as drafted by the company, providing that the city "shall not pass any by-law for constructing and maintaining a power or light system," might possibly be construed as precluding the city authorizing another company to come in.

Members of the council with one accord agreed that the tramway company has all along specified that it was not afraid of any rival company coming in.

Mr. Taylor wished to know if the council's mind was that the right to give a bonus or free water to a new company should be reserved to it. He had made such a suggestion to Mr. Goward.

Another point which Mr. Taylor wanted instruction on was with respect to a proposal by the company that in taking water for power from the city it should be for 1,000 horsepower per day or units of 1,000 horsepower. He was not very clear on the meaning, but inclined to the belief that power would have to be either 1,000 horsepower or 2,000 horsepower, etc. Ald. Mable said he did not think that this latter question need require much attention. He did not think the city would have the power to spare.

NEW WATERWORKS BY-LAW FOR CITY

COUNCIL PREPARING TO GO TO PEOPLE

Measure Passed Committee
Last Evening and Will Be Passed Monday.

The city council disposed in committee last night of the by-law to authorize the raising of $1,350,000 for the purpose of taking over the Esquimalt Waterworks property, in case of the expropriation proceedings being successful, and for the providing of the necessary money to bring the water to the city. The by-law will be finally disposed of on Monday night by the council.

The by-law provides for borrowing $1,350,000 payable in 50 years. To do this $72,842.50 will be required each year to cover interest and sinking fund. The by-law, when presented to the people, will require only a majority vote under the statutes.

Several points in connection with the by-law were touched upon last evening in the discussion. At the suggestion of the mayor the watershed and the water works at Thetis lake are not to be included in the property upon which security will be given in the raising of the money. This is necessary in order that Thetis lake should not be tied up.

Under the statutes the existing loans raised for waterworks purposes constitute a first charge upon the rates. It was pointed out by the barrister that the new undertaking in view of this would have to be a secondary charge. The existing loans are, many of them, about matured, so that the existing charges are not heavy.

U. S. CRUISERS TO ASSEMBLE AT SEATTLE

Navy Yard, Puget Sound, July 16.—The first and second squadrons of the Pacific fleet, including the cruisers Tennessee, Washington, South Dakota, California, West Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Colorado, will rendezvous in Seattle harbor on August 15th, and will remain there for 10 days, according to the proposed itinerary for the Pacific fleet, which is being formulated by fleet officers here.

The eight big cruisers will remain in Seattle harbor to give the visitors to the exposition their last opportunity to see the Pacific fleet in these waters. Leaving Seattle on August 28th, the ships will proceed to San Francisco for ammunition and supplies. The ships will then steam for Manila bay, where battle practice will be held. The fleet will remain in the Orient, visiting various Chinese and Japanese ports, until the latter part of next February, when it will return to this Coast for target practice at Magdalena Bay.

VANCOUVER WOULD ENLARGE MINISTRY

Delegation Asks Government to Create New Portfolio.

A deputation representing the Vancouver Board of Trade waited upon the Provincial Government yesterday afternoon to urge upon the Premier and his colleagues a more active policy with respect to agricultural lands and immigration, and the filling up of the fertile valleys of the province.

Premier McBride and his colleagues heard the representatives, listening with evident interest, but promised nothing.

It was suggested by the delegation that the department of agriculture and immigration might well be put under the charge of a minister alone charged with that duty, thus relieving the Minister of Finance of his double task.

The Premier, however, gave little hope for any addition to the cabinet, in view of the fact that a minister had been added so recently.

The deputation is confident that their representations and the friendly conversation they had with the government will result in good.

Woman Requests to Have Her Husband Put Under Liqueur Act.

Complaining that she could get no satisfaction from the police, whom she said she had frequently visited with a complaint about her husband's drinking habits, Mrs. Smith waited this morning in the police court for the appearance of Magistrate Jay, to whom she said she would put her case and see if he could not get the justice she asked for.

Magistrate Jay being out of town, the bench was taken by W. W. Northcott, J. P. Mrs. Smith made application to have her husband placed under the Liqueur Act. The story she told from the witness box was that she had been to the police several times to obtain assistance in regard to her husband, but had been given no satisfaction. Her husband's habits were getting worse and worse. He had beaten her down the street twice and beaten her. He frequently came home drunk from his occupation of driving a milk wagon. Her home had been ruined and debt contracted through the drink habit. Mrs. Smith appeared to suffer considerably in telling her story. She asked that her husband be restrained as far as the law could do so.

Mr. Northcott told her to make the necessary application through the clerk of the police court when the case would be dealt with accordingly.

Government Asked to Give Increased Water Supply.

A delegation from Prince Rupert, consisting of the government agent, William Manson, J. Among the undertakings deemed necessary is that of increased water supply. To do the work asked would incur probably $35,000. While the government has as yet not given a definite answer as to what will be done there is no question but that there will be steps taken to improve the water supply as well as some other public works.

CRUSHED TO DEATH DURING BIG PARADE

Man Falls From Float and Wheels Pass Over His Body.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., July 15.—The nearest approach to a Mardi Gras parade ever seen in this city passed through the streets to-day between banks of thousands of spectators massed on backgrounds of colored hunting and waving flags. An allegorical and floral procession in honor of the visiting Elks, numbering thousands of marchers, countless decorated floats, bright with pretty girls and gay colors, passed in review before the newly elected exalted ruler of Elksdom and his officials before leading citizens of this and other cities.

For four hours the marchers, floats and decorated automobiles passed on. Every phase of California life was represented: Mining, farming, fruit raising, traders, professions and arts were portrayed. Mexican vaqueros, Indians, cowboys, Mexican señoritas and golden haired California beauties rode past the grandstands and by the multitudes in vivid and seemingly endless numbers. The spectacle was something seldom before attempted in California. It was the piece de resistance of the week. Floats representing nearly every county on the earth were in line.

Shortly before the start of the parade John Bainger, 35, farmer, was thrown from one of the floats. He fell under the hoofs of the horses and the wheels of the wagon passed over his body. He died while he was being rushed to a hospital.

James Sherman, president of the senate, acted in the capacity of umpire.

RUNAWAY BOYS FOUND.

Vancouver, B. C., July 15.—Two Boston lads, aged 12 and 14, were found stowed away among Portuguese laborers bound for the sugar plantations on the Fiji Islands by the Australian steamer Aorangi, which sailed to-day. The immigration officials held them and learned that they had run away from home to New York, where the Portuguese agent picked them up and signed them on, keeping them out of sight all the way across the continent. Their parents wired to ship them back. The Canadian Pacific railway agent at Boston had fares deposited.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Elliott and son, Niles, have arrived in the city and are guests of Mrs. G. W. Robinson, Viamede, Esquimalt road. Mrs. Elliott is a sister of the late Mr. G. W. Robinson. Mr. and Mrs. Elliott intend remaining in the city for some time.

SAYS HUSBAND THREATENED HER LIFE

Evelyn Thaw Testifies at Sanity Hearing Before Justice Mills.

White Plains, N. Y., July 15.—Justice Mills, who is hearing Harry Thaw's trial as to his sanity, ruled yesterday afternoon that Evelyn Thaw might testify regarding a threat to kill her which is alleged to have been made by her husband, the defendant. Before testifying, Mrs. Thaw stated that she did not want to injure her husband, but that she did not intend to go to jail for contempt of court.

At the opening of the afternoon session, the defence announced that it would insist that the record of both trials of Harry Thaw for the killing of Stanford White be used as evidence just the same as if the witnesses were in court now. Prosecutor Clark said that he desired the opinions of experts at former trials, barred, and the defence agreed to this.

Then Justice Mills made his ruling regarding the alleged threat. After Evelyn had made her statement regarding her reluctance to testify, Clark asked her if Harry Thaw had said: "When I get out I shall have to kill you." The defence objected to the question, and Evelyn Thaw asked the court if she was compelled to answer.

"Yes," Justice Mills replied, "you must, unless it would incriminate you."

"I do not see how I can claim that excuse," said the witness.

She then made an eloquent plea to the court, begging to be excused from answering the question.

"I am in a terrible position," she cried. "I am in a terrible position," she cried. "I am in a terrible position," she cried.

"You know I wasn't crazy when I killed White. I only missed him by two minutes the day before."

When Mrs. Thaw was cross-examined Thaw directed his counsel what to ask her. She identified six letters which she had written. These letters were not received as evidence, and the purpose of having them identified was not apparent.

She was then excused from the stand.

BALM FOR SOME MULTI-MILLIONAIRES

Men Who Have Benefited the Nation Deserve Praise, Says Roosevelt.

New York, July 15.—Col. Roosevelt in the current number of the Outlook magazine apparently has applied a soothing ointment to the many wounds inflicted upon "predatory wealth."

While the former president does not back down from his position nor condone the evil of certain phases of wealth segregation, he apparently passed the olive branch to the class of American millionaires represented by Andrew Carnegie, et al.

Mr. Roosevelt declares in the Outlook that the presence of the multi-millionaire is not conducive to the health of the development of the United States. He holds, however, a well defined barrier of distinction between the multi-millionaire as a class and that person individually. The wide possibility of doing a national good with great wealth, the article states, has been recognized by certain wealthy Americans. These men, he affirms, deserve credit and praise for their ability and energy shown by amassing a great fortune, provided they have made the country sharers in their prosperity.

F. J. HENEY'S FEES.

Received Almost $70,000 From United States Government.

Washington, D. C., July 15.—Fees paid Francis J. Heney for work done for the government came under the attention yesterday of the house committee which has in charge the general deficiency bill.

That Heney received almost $70,000 from the department of justice during the time of his appointment as special assistant to the attorney general in November, 1903 to January 21, 1905, was made public at the hearing.

Chairman Tawney, of the committee, questioned one sum of $23,000 which it was shown had been paid to the prosecutor during 1903 when Heney held an appointment as special assistant to the attorney general. Tawney alleged that Heney had not rendered any service to the government at that time, but Chief Clerk Field explained that this sum covered services performed in prior years.

Field testified that Heney had held eight or ten appointments since 1903. In this connection he mentioned that Heney had been paid $1,025 for ten months' service in Oregon in 1905, when he was acting as United States attorney.

FATHER TORTURES 13-MONTHS'-OLD GIRL

Takes Child From Matron of Juvenile Court and Escapes to the Hills.

Sonora, Cal., July 15.—Hiding somewhere in the mountain fastnesses of Tuolumne county, is A. Liebscher, an inhuman father who practiced upon his 13-months-old baby girl atrocities so cruel that the tortures of the inquisition pale before them. On his trail are several posses of angry citizens of this city, who will mete out quick justice if he is captured.

To keep the baby girl from sucking her lips, Liebscher pierced its tongue and sewed a button on either side, using a piece of fishing line. The baby was found by probation officers, who arrested the father and took the child to a physician for medical aid.

After an examination Liebscher was released by the court and the child turned over to the matron of the juvenile court. Later while her attention was distracted, Liebscher seized the child and disappeared.

Posses are now in pursuit of the man. It is not believed that the child will recover from her tortures. Rewards have been offered for the apprehension of the inhuman father.

ANARCHY AGAIN REIGNS IN MOROCCO

European Intervention Cannot Be Long Delayed—Mulai Hafid Helpless.

Tahier, July 15.—The internal situation in Morocco occasions the deepest apprehension. It is believed that European intervention cannot be long delayed. The entire country is the prey of complete anarchy. Whether Reghi is actually master of Fez is not yet known, but Mulai Hafid is manifestly helpless and a prisoner in the capital, and Mulai El Kebir, brother of the Sultan, who has been proclaimed Sultan in Zemar, is advancing at the head of a large force on Mequinez.

Spain Ready to Act.

Madrid, July 15.—While the Spanish government expects to send 8,000 troops into the Rif region, it is officially declared that Spain does not seek war, its sole purpose is to put its possessions in northern Africa in a condition to repel and punish attacks.

There is a strong belief here that Mulai Hafid will fall, and in that event Spain will have ample ships on the African coast, and will be in a position to regain some of the prestige lost to France as a result of the Casa Blanca intervention.

BODY FOUND IN LAKE.

Police Believe Young Farmer Was Victim of Foul Play.

Chicago, July 15.—A three-days' search for a supposed murderer ended with the finding of the body of Claude Hunt, a young farmer of St. Joseph county, Michigan, and now the local police believe that he also met his death at the hands of a supposed assassin who slew Mamie Davis, of Chicago, at Klinger lake. After the body of the young woman was found in the water of the lake, suspicion attached to Hunt. The man's body had been in the water about three days.

Another theory of the police is that the young woman leaped into the lake with suicidal intent because of suffering from sickness. They think it possible that Hunt jumped after her to save her life and being unable to swim, was drowned.

Friends of the dead girl told the police that she often expressed a determination to end her life.

G. T. P. WILL AWARD CONTRACTS SHORTLY

Workshops and Round-house
Will Be Erected at Edmonton.

The Edmonton Bulletin announces that the contract will be let shortly for the construction of G. T. P. railway workshops and round house on the company's property to the north of the city.

This was one of the important matters that detained General Manager Chamberlin in the city. The general manager was engaged in matters in connection with the entrance of the G. T. P. into Edmonton over the C. N. R. tracks. It is understood that the workshops will be under construction as soon as possible and that an 18-stall round house will be included in the contract.

The receiving of tenders for the construction of the G. T. P. branch line from Ryley to Calgary was the object of the interview which railway contractors had with Mr. Chamberlin. "Fifty miles of this line will be built this year," said Mr. Chamberlin to a Bulletin representative. "Work will be pushed to completion as soon as possible. The line will run through Canby and this year's work will extend about twenty-five miles south of it. This is thought to be as much as can be handled this year."

BASEBALL FATALITY.

Red Bluff, Cal., July 15.—Post mortem examination of the body of Hiram Parks, the six-year-old son of C. M. Parks, has established that the boy died from injuries received when he was struck in the back by a batted ball during the progress of a baseball game here Saturday. The boy died Monday, supposedly from spinal meningitis.

PROPOSED CORPORATION TAX.

Washington, D. C., July 15.—Slight, but unmistakable evidence of the friction between the president and the conferees on the tariff bill have begun to disturb the pleasant relations between the White House and the Capitol. They have become apparent by many calls that have been made on the chief executive, and as a result of the frequent interchange of views, a last effort has been made by the conferees to induce the president to consent to the striking out of the corporation tax amendment without success. The president not only told Senator Aldrich and Chairman Payne that he would not withdraw from his position in favor of this tax, but that he was assured of sufficient votes to ensure its adoption in both houses.

GIRLS HOLD UP MAN.

Chicago, July 15.—Helena and Bertha Derowska, sisters, aged 16 and 13 years, respectively, were taken in charge by the police after they had held up Charles Natel, and relieved him of ten cents. The girls carried an empty revolver. They stated they wanted to get money to buy ice cream sodas.

WASTE PAPER ECONOMICS.

Hearing of processes for the reclamation of waste timber brings to mind the tremendous quantity of paper daily thrown aside as useless. An office of ordinary size produces at least a ton of waste paper in a month, which is disposed of at a price ranging from $5 to $10. The purchasers of this office by-product feed it to machines that bundle the paper by a sort of hay-press process, and the magic of machinery returns the soiled scraps in pristine whiteness. Waste paper has become so much a matter of course that new offices are built with a paper shed, a contrivance for caring directly for this waste. In some businesses this product amounts to hundreds of tons in a year, and where the amount is large, as in a city printing office, it is gathered every day.

In addition to the paper of commercial and manufacturing concerns, there is the constant waste going on in every home, which would aggregate thousands of dollars every year if accounted for in the economies of the country. Possibly when the Conservative commission has disposed of its big problems it will find means to eliminate this source of waste.—National Magazine.

Sunlight is said to be a cure for influenza epidemics.

Woman's True Friend

Experimenting with new and untried medicines is foolish, and often dangerous. It would take a medicine more than forty years, to prove itself so universally good as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. During all that time it has been woman's favorite medicine—a restorative tonic, uplifting and invigorating the nervous and discouraged and giving them the final touch of perfect health.

Women use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription in preference to all other advocated medicines for it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs—is not anything like advertised, secret, or patent medicines—does not claim to be able to do impossible things.

THE ONE REMEDY for women devised by a regularly graduated physician of vast experience in woman's ailments, and adapted to her delicate organism.

THE ONE REMEDY good enough that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on its outside wrapper.

You can't afford to allow yourself to be over-persuaded into accepting any secret nostrum as a substitute for this honest square-deal non-secret medicine. Don't do it. No honest druggist will attempt to cheat you in this way. He who does should be rebuked and avoided. Doctors prescribe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for their worst cases because they know what it contains and know its ingredients to be of the very best.

It's well now and then to gently cleanse out bowel germs that breed weakness, cause foul breath, loss of appetite, dizziness and headache. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep bowels sweet and clean. Recommended by druggists because of their purity, goodness, and active gentleness.

GREED AND TYRANNY.

It would be interesting, and possibly profitable, to be informed whether those patriotic Canadians who periodically insist that the Canadian tariff should be raised as high as the American tariff have altered their views as a result of the fiscal farce that is being enacted within the halls of Congress. There is apparently no finality to the demands of protectionists of the extreme variety upon either side of the border. The genesis of the United States protectionist system was the necessity of the country during the civil war period. The ordinary means of raising a revenue proved inadequate to meet the extraordinary expenditure of that crisis. Taxes were imposed upon everything taxable, including the prime necessities of life. The burdens imposed upon the great body of the people proved the opportunity of the minority of the people. The result was the creation of a cult which waxed immensely rich owing to the special privileges it enjoyed in the home market. This cult became politically influential also. It has been growing in wealth and influence ever since. It led the country on from the comparatively moderate degree of protection enjoyed during and immediately after the war up to McKinleyism and Dingleyism, culminating in Aldrichism of the present day, which aims not only at higher duties than ever imposed before, but empowers the president at his discretion to add from twenty-five to fifty per cent. to those duties in order to club foreign nations into giving this nation which imposes maximum duties minimum duties upon American goods seeking entrance to foreign markets. Such is the final word of protection in its extreme development. Does it contain any lesson for the people of Canada or for the protectionist political party in Canada which has laid down the economic principle that we must follow the example of the United States and impose and maintain a tariff of equal proportions to the tariff of the United States?

There is an obvious lesson for the people of Canada, however, in the genesis and development of protection in the United States. That lesson is that under no circumstances should the tariff be permitted to rise higher than the actual revenue requirements of the country. The moment the tariff is permitted to pass from the control of the people into the control of the incidentally protected interests, at that moment it is in danger of becoming an instrument of tyranny and extortion. There was a danger of that very thing coming to pass in Canada immediately previous to the general elections of 1896, when the schedules were fixed in accordance with the demands of the protected interests. Canadians will remember that at that time in this country, as in the United States to-day, there was an imperative demand for a downward fiscal readjustment. The Premier of that day gave a pledge that "the mouldering branches should be cut away." His finance minister made an attempt to redeem the pledge—and there was a tremendous descent upon the House of Commons of the "captains of industry," with the result that all the proposed reductions submitted to the House were described as "clerical errors," and the original N. P. schedules were either restored or increased.

The experience of the United States has been just the same, only in a more aggravated form. President Taft during the late campaign pledged his honor that the Dingley tariff would be revised downwards. This guarantee was given in the name of the Republican party, and that party proved triumphant. A special session of Congress was called to carry out the work of revision downwards, and under the leadership of Payne in the House it was revised upwards and of Aldrich in the Senate still higher upwards. Most of the leading newspapers of the United States, including the more influential Republican journals, denounce this condition of affairs as not only an outrage upon the American people and a disgrace to the Republican party, but as a species of brigandage. They have demanded that President Taft shall either call upon the twin Republican leaders to redeem the explicit pledges of the President or that the President shall veto the tariff bill after it passes Congress. There are indications that Mr. Taft is inclined to act in accordance with these demands. But whether the head of the nation will have the courage to take the side of the people against the powerful corporations and protected interests which control the federal legislative chambers is another matter. We shall see.

In the meantime have the high protectionists in Canada any defence for the conduct of their neighbors on the other side? Do they think it would be well for the people of Canada to permit themselves to fall into the hands of a class who, under temptation, might become just as ruthless and rapacious as American protected interests? If our opinion be of any value, it is that we shall hear little more of the demand that the Canadian tariff shall be increased to proportions corresponding with the American tariff. The Conservative party has therefore lost its policy. What is it going to do about that?

IN PURSUIT OF HAPPINESS.

Colonel Roosevelt has killed, alone and unaided save by an express rifle, a hippopotamus weighing three tons. As the great man did not complete his conquest of this great creature of the lower orders by packing the carcass to camp on his back, we do not know that the feat is worthy of note at the cost of the cable and telegraph tolls. If the Colonel had demonstrated his ability to carry three tons for a distance of, say, three miles, his name might have been bawled through the halls of time as the physical marvel of the twentieth century. But he did not do that. He simply killed the hippo, as many a common man, white and black, has done before, and under conditions in which the advantages leaned more heavily in favor of the beast, so that we do not see that there is really any occasion to make a wonder of a very ordinary performance for one who is unquestionably a big game hunter. No doubt strong nerves ought to be the portion of one who goes forth against such a formidable-looking creature as a six thousand-pound river horse (it might surely more properly be called a river pig)—but no demonstration of the nerve of the ex-president of the United States was necessary. That proposition is accepted without question. Therefore why kill a hippopotamus, big or little, at all? The great creature is harmless. In its own habitat, we submit, it is just as fairly entitled to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" as any other created thing which breathes the breath of life. It is not graceful, it is true, except in the eyes of its own kind; but there are many ungainly animals which serve a useful purpose. It cannot be characterized as vermin, like the dangerous carnivora of the Dark Continent. Its teeth are valuable commercially, but the Colonel is making plenty of money out of his magazine articles, and would hardly think of turning the tusks of hippopotami into a commercial commodity. Consequently we think we are justified in protesting against the wanton slaughter of animals, such as the graceful giraffe, or of animals which are just as harmless if left alone, such as the ungainly hippopotamus. There are many people in the world, a considerable number of them, we doubt not, in the United States, who do not believe that harmless animals should be wantonly slaughtered for the purpose of making a holiday for any man, even if he be the greatest of men.

It is not a healthy sign this disposition of the Victoria City Council to transact so much of its business, or rather the business of the people, behind sealed doors. It is a tendency that appears to be growing, too, and that is the most disquieting feature of the matter. We question the right of the council to deny the public access to any of its meetings. The excuse, we know, is that it is not always expedient for the servants of the people to "show the hand" of the people to public interests. But how can such a subterfuge apply in the case of the meetings of the Parks Board? The truth of the matter is that some members of the council, the mayor included, have not the courage to express their opinions openly for fear such expressions might affect their prospects at the annual elections. That is the most reprehensible feature of the present system of conducting civic business. Too many of the councillors are afraid that by taking a determined stand in what they know to be the public interests their chances of election may be lessened when they again appear before the people. The result is that many ratepayers are disgusted with the existing system of municipal government and call for a change, such as administration by commissioners, which, while they admit it to be contrary to the trend of the times, contend that it is the only effective substitute for a succession of spineless councils, who fear to let the light of publicity shine upon their public actions.

There is no doubt about it, Mr. Joseph Martin, formerly of British Columbia, went "one for a holiday" just at a time when there were numerous openings for a man who cherishes high political ambitions. Mr. Martin has received another Liberal nomination, this time right in London Town. The normal Liberal majority in St. Pancras is large, at the last election it was 1,881, and the man from the West has a much finer chance of being elected than he had in constitutionally Conservative Oxford. Again the Times wishes Mr. Martin success, secure in the knowledge that if he gains a seat on the floor of the Mother of Parliaments he will bring no discredit upon his native land.

The motor car which yesterday on Port street near the hospital bumped and smashed a buggy is said to have been going at a slow rate. That car should be exhibited as a public curiosity and its driver decorated with some order of merit. There is no other like in Victoria. There is only one way, apparently, to stop furious driving and daily danger to life along the stretch between the city and the race track: that is by stationing policemen in civilian's clothes at intervals on the route, catching the law-breakers and either flogging or jailing them.

What Other People Think

WHAT VICTORIA NEEDS.

To the Editor: Further to my lines of yesterday, and attempting to focus the desires of the vast majority of the people of Victoria and district, I would say to the Development League, the Board of Trade, and the City Council, give us: Good water, good roads, good tramway connections and reasonable cost of living, for God Almighty has done all the rest, bountifully and with unstinted hand. Do not attempt to improve His handiwork. See to your own and you will find Partisans and pamphlets are unnecessary; population will flow into Victoria just as rapidly as we can comfortably house and entertain it. A densely populated city without the above attributes is a breeding ground for degenerates—a thing to flee from, not to locate in.

THE IMPERIAL PRESS CONFERENCE.

REDUCTION IN PRESS CABLE RATES.

(No. 18.)

During the discussion at the foreign office early in June, one of the Canadian delegates made the observation that the actual results of the Imperial Press Conference would not be found on the minute book of that gathering. No truer observation could have been made, for the greatest results were those of suggestion and of inspiration. It was the realization of this which led the conference on its closing day to rather unceremoniously bundle out a formal resolution on the subject of the urgency and importance of naval defence, the members heartily applauding the declaration of J. A. MacDonald, of the Globe, that it would be a grave mistake to attempt to compress the far-reaching influence and lessons of the gathering into a two by four platitude.

While this is true it must always remain a matter of pride among those who have long desired improved and cheapened international communication between the Mother Land and the colonies that such great strides were made in that direction, the more so as it looked almost impossible at one time of accomplishment. When at the formal sessions of the first week a committee was appointed to go into the matter and to report to the conference on its reassembly after the tour of Scotland, there were few indeed who thought it anything more than a polite way of shelving the question. But at the head of the committee was a man who in this instance lived up to his reputation for thoroughness. This was Hon. Harry Lawson, manager of the London Telegraph and son of Lord Bournemouth. Associated with him on the committee was Moberly Bell of the Times. During the absence of the rest of us in Scotland these two men went laboriously into the whole subject, so that on our return all the preliminary data had been obtained and our work was immensely facilitated. They had interviewed the present officials of the post office, the managers of the private owned cable companies and of the Pacific board, and also Mr. Marconi. At all our subsequent meetings we had the advantage of the presence of Mr. Marconi, of Mr. Baxendale, of the Pacific cable board, and of the officials of the post office department.

The committee found indisputable evidence of the existence of a combine in rates among the private owned cable companies and of the Pacific board, and that the rates were too high and ought to be reduced, but that they were prevented, through their arrangements with other companies from making any reduction.

After such a specific declaration the committee quickly came to a decision. They first found from the Pacific (state owned) Cable Company that it was willing to cut its rates in half. They then passed a resolution asking the Imperial and Dominion governments to lay down some state owned system of electric communication between Britain and Canada, thus clearing the ground for a reduction of rates. This line, with a government regulated line across Canada and a state owned one from Canada to Australia and New Zealand would insure a rate which the cable companies operating by the eastern route must meet.

The offer of the Pacific cable board ensures at once a rate of 9½d. from London to Australia with, of course, further reductions if the Atlantic cable companies will lower rates.

It was in connection with this latter link that special interest attached to Mr. Marconi. The young inventor told us that by August he hoped to be able to transmit 15,000 words daily, and that when certain improvements now in progress were effected the rate could be reduced to 2d. a word.

"You can't build up the Empire at a shilling a word," was the slogan of the journalists in reply to representations by several of the Imperial statesmen that undue condensation of cablegrams had led to grave errors in South Africa through a misinterpretation of the tenor of remarks made by English ministers.

Later, when we waited on Mr. Asquith and his postmaster-general, Mr. Buxton, we received the kindest reception and were assured that it was with the full concurrence and approval of the home government that the Pacific cable board had lowered its rates. This much has been accomplished, but even more is expected, for the London members of the committee will continue to act and when Mr. Lemieux visits London this month to go more fully into the question, he will be assured of the co-operation of a powerful section of the London press acting for the journalists of the Empire.

THE NEW DREADNOUGHTS.

Details of the Four New Vessels to Be Shortly Laid Down.

Not many days will probably be allowed to pass before the announcement is publicly made that the British cabinet have decided to lay down the four supplementary battleships, and that these vessels will be of the super-Dreadnought type. They will be to the famous British battleship, which Sir Philip Watts designed in 1905, what she is to all predecessors, says the Daily Mail.

The length of the new ships will be about 600 feet, or some 60 feet longer than the Neptune class, of which class one is building at Portsmouth. Two more are to be ordered shortly. The ships will differ from the Neptune most strikingly in their armament. Instead of ten 12-inch guns, firing 850-lb. shells and weighing about sixty tons, they will be armed with ten 13½-inch guns, firing shells of 1,250 or 1,300 lbs., and weighing eighty-five tons.

In the Neptune class all the ten 12-inch guns can be fired on either broadside. In the new super-Dreadnoughts all the 13½-inch weapons will be able in the same way to fire off either beam. Six will fire ahead and eight astern, so that the hitting power of the new ships will be unparalleled.

The displacement of the new ships, as calculated by the length, will be between 25,000 and 26,000 tons. Many fea-

PLANS ACCEPTED FOR THE Y. M. C. A.

H. S. GRIFFITH WILL BE THE ARCHITECT

Six Local Firms Submitted Designs in Competition for Building.

H. S. Griffith's plans for the new Y. M. C. A. building were last night accepted by the board and building committee. Hargreaves & Hargreaves gained the second prize of $250 cash. There were six sets of plans considered by the judges. The judges were W. W. Northcott, J. G. Brown and Thomas Brydon, together with three Y. M. C. A. men—J. M. Graham, Vancouver; E. W. Thomason, Spokane, and C. B. Sayer, of Winnipeg. The names of the competitors were not known to them. It is expected that the building will be erected and finished for $70,000. The purchase of the site on the northeast corner of Blanchard and View streets has been completed.

The building is a four-story stone and brick structure with swimming bath 21 by 50 feet, three sets of locker rooms for business men, young men and boys, bowling alleys, billiard room, boiler room and restaurant, all of which are located in the basement.

A spacious rotunda and lobby with boys' and men's departments separate, general office, reading room, library and a gymnasium 45 by 65 feet fitted with concave running track 30 laps to the mile, are located on the ground floor.

On the second floor is an auditorium with stage and gallery to seat 600 people provided with a lift from the kitchen, capable of handling large banquets with special thought for the requirements of the Canadian Club.

Six class rooms are provided on this floor and the upper part of the gymnasium. JOHNSON STREET IS ENCLOSED UPON

City Council to Decide What is to Be Done in the Matter.

Property owners on the north side of Johnson street from Quadra to Cook street are encroaching upon the highway allowance. The city engineer says that Quadra street the fences are about three feet on the street and when Cook street is reached the encroachment is almost four feet. This came up at a meeting of the city council last night when the trustees of the Metropolitan Methodist church wrote asking that the street lines be given them as they intended to build a cement fence about their property in front of the new parsonage.

The city engineer said he found the property encroached upon the street about 3 feet. The street was 66 feet wide by the plan. It would be 63 feet wide with the three feet taken off. All the fences encroached in the street line there.

Several of the aldermen did not think it would be any disadvantage to let the line remain where the fences now were. The street was plenty wide enough with this three feet off it.

Ald. Mabie did not advise giving any right to the fence. He would give the applicants the street line and let them take the responsibility of building on the street.

His worship favored giving no permission but allowing those interested to take chances on putting the wall on the street.

Ald. Stewart said if it was ever decided to move the fences back the council would be met with this letter.

Ald. Turner said the council should either decide now to make the property owners comply with the proper line or adopt the existing fence line.

The city solicitor pointed out that the council could not change the line. It was fixed by act of parliament.

Ald. Stewart moved that the city engineer give the correct line.

Ald. Ross seconded this.

Ald. Turner wanted a report from the engineer as to the situation all along the street before action was taken.

Ald. Turner moved an amendment in line with his suggestion that a report be received by the city engineer by Monday night.

The amendment was carried.

The adjourned meeting of the school board will be held this evening. The meeting was to have been held on Wednesday last, but was postponed owing to the sessions of the Dominion Educational Association being held here.

INVESTIGATING WRECK OF STEAMER YOSEMITE

Evidence Shows Captain Was in Pilot House at Time of Accident.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Wash., July 16.—Official investigation into the causes of the wreck of the old steamer Yosemite, which was continued yesterday, brought out nothing startling. The inspectors will take additional testimony before making their report.

Captain Edwards testified that there was a strong tide running and that the steamer took a sudden sheer, driving straight on the reef before she could be brought back to her course. The witness said that the Yosemite had been steering badly and when caught in the tide eddies it was impossible to control her.

Captain Edwards asserted that he was at the wheel with his quarter-master, and their combined efforts failed to keep the vessel off the rocks.

It had been rumored that the captain was not in the pilot house at the time of the accident, but the evidence showed that he was.

The Yosemite was wrecked last Friday near the entrance to Port Orchard bay.

SOCKEYES ARE LATE IN ARRIVING HERE

Big Tide To-morrow Expected to Have Some Effect on Run.

The sockeyes are very late this year. The season has been backward in every way, and doubtless some subtle influence has informed the fish of the state of affairs. To-day 2,500 sockeyes were taken from Todd's traps, but that was the result of three days' run, so that it did not amount to much. The big tide commences to-morrow and the canners have been expecting the fish to come up the straits with it, so that within the next two or three days there should be some news from the traps.

EIR TO REPAIR ON PUGET SOUND

Cargo Will Have to Be Discharged Before Steamer is Docked.

Steamer Eir, that was reported to have been coming here, has found it to her advantage to go to the other side of the line to make her repairs. It is probable that the entire cargo will have to be discharged before she can be repaired. She was examined before leaving Gray's Harbor by divers and Lloyd's surveyors decided that she was in good condition to make the run.

A statement has been made that Captain Marcussen took the vessel across the bar without the consent of the pilot, but that was not true. The pilot and he were in full accord on the matter, he says. She was over the bar when she took a sudden sheer and struck her stern against the bank of the channel.

The Eir is well known here, where she was laid up for some time recently.

TRYING TO NAVIGATE THE NORTHERN STREAMS

Steamer Running From Ne-chaco to the Omineca Mines.

If the steamer Nechaco has succeeded in its purpose of navigating from Stewart's lake to Tachia lake this summer the freight problem of the district, and particularly of the Omineca mines, will be solved. The trip had not been attempted for years, and this year the owners of the steamer have tried to get through by Tache river, Tremble lake and Tachia lake into landing where every year over 200,000 pounds of freight are needed.

Hubert McIntyre, who reached here yesterday from Stewart lake where he has been teaching school, says that the trip of the steamer commenced before his leaving for Victoria, but of the result he had no means of finding out. It is, however, generally expected that the landing will be safely made. The steamer is a stern wheeler with a consumption of only two and a half cords of wood per day. The steamer has a length of eighty feet.

In Nechaco district last winter everything was badly frozen, and the residents have experienced the coldest summer for thirty years. The swishes have had to go forty miles for sufficient game, but the Hudson's Bay Company's post there has, as usual, seen that they have not starved during the time of privation and distress.

The valley, he says, is settling up, but is yet far from becoming populous.

MARINE NOTES

Steamer Teucer, of the Blue Funnel line, went over to Vancouver early this morning to discharge her Vancouver cargo. She will then after coaling make another round of the ports looking for cargo for the United Kingdom. The outbound steamers do not have half as heavy cargoes as those inbound.

The Tabernacle Baptist congregation will worship in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium on Sunday next as the church building is being removed from Cook street and will not be ready in time for the Sunday services.

Tugboat Ivanhoe was ashore on the rocks near Skipjack the night before last, and the boom, she was taking from Browning harbor to the other side of the boundary line went adrift.

Steamer Floriston, Captain Laurie, left Cardiff with a cargo of coal for Esquimalt June 12th, and should arrive here about the middle of next month.

Steamer Empress of India arrived at Hong Kong yesterday from this port after calling at the Japanese ports.

HOSPITAL DAY AT RACE TRACK

INSTITUTIONS WILL RECEIVE LARGE SUM

Fantastic Wins Feature Event
and Breaks Track Record.

Hospital day at the Willows will result in between twenty-five hundred and three thousand dollars being distributed between the Jubilee and the St. Joseph's hospitals. The attendance yesterday to see the hospital purse run for was well on to three thousand, and as every person entering the gates paid admission the receipts, while not being the biggest day's takings at the course, will mount to a handsome sum for each institution.

Mrs. Charles Sanford, a visitor from San Francisco, with the true American spirit was out at 8 o'clock yesterday morning canvassing the race-track residents. The result of her day's work at the track and at the cars was five hundred odd dollars for the hospital fund.

The hospital purse of $300, with an additional $50 to the winner, provided the track record was broken, was the big race for the afternoon over a mile. J. J. Ferguson's Fantastic showed better speed than the existing record of Capt. Burnett, and took three-fifths of a second off the time, claiming the added fifty dollars. The new time is 3:42. Fantastic and Edwin T. Fryer behaved badly at the post and starter. Fryer and Assistant Starter Weber had their work out for nine and a half minutes getting the horses into position. Servience was the only horse which did not get away instantly. Fantastic, from a centre position, had early speed and shot to the front, taking the rail on the turn. She led a length and a half all the way and was never in trouble. Vosper sat still on the mare, and did not push her till the final furlong. Johnston and Barney Oldfield took the positions in the order named all the way round.

Vosper, the winning jockey, also rode Miss Picnic and Jim Mallady winners, and was second on David Boland, Archibald, to whom Vosper ranks as second, was not in the saddle yesterday owing to indisposition. On this account Mr. Dunlap scratched Toller in the last race of the day.

The opening event was between Miss Picnic and Durker's Electrowan, winner of the day before. The pair raced neck and neck six lengths ahead of the field for half a mile of the five furlongs and Miss Picnic showed mere speed at the finish and secured a half length victory. Alarmed, getting away badly, worked into third money. Marvel P. and Jim Mallady were the long shot winners at ten and fifteen to one. The former beat Banellen in five furlongs, and the latter was a nose in front of La Rosa.

Jim Mallady beat the favorites, Fern L. and Laura Clay, by several lengths. Lovely Mary had just half a length the better of David Boland and Storma in the third, and La Taranta by a nose, won from May Pink in the closing race, with Titus third.

BASEBALL WILL GO TO PITTSBURG.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Wash., July 15.—Tim O'Rourke, who is scouting in the Pacific northwest in the interest of the Pittsburg National League Baseball Club, to-day, completed negotiations for the purchase of the release of outfielder Campbell, of the Aberdeen team. The price paid for the release of the big felder is placed at about $2,000. Campbell will remain with the Black Cats until late in the fall.

O'Rourke is now dickering for Pitcher Holm, of Spokane, and the chances are that he will soon have the player's name to a Pirate contract for next season.

THE RING. OFFER FROM PHILADELPHIA.

New York, July 15.—Jack McGuigan, well known to fight followers throughout the country, and Harry Edwards, has offered $25,000 for a six round battle between Sam Langford and Champion Stanley Ketchel, the fight to be pulled off in Philadelphia.

Langford's manager, Joe Woodman, is said to look upon the match favorably and will accept McGuigan's proposition unless Tex. Hall and his Ely Nevada, promoters, increase their bid to $10,000. Woodman also wants a guarantee of $2,500 for training expenses. This purse is the largest ever offered for a six-round engagement, and the offer is regarded with some doubt by pugilistic followers here. The fact that the promoters plan to stage the bout in the Philadelphia American League baseball park, however, where an immense crowd may be accommodated, gives ground that the belief that the big gate receipts might justify the offer.

CRICKET. ALBIONS V. EMPRESS.

The eleven of the Albion and Empress cricket clubs will meet to-morrow afternoon at the Beacon Hill cricket ground. The game is called for 2.30 p.m.

TEACHERS MEET IN DEPARTMENTS OF WORK

Elementary Education as Handled by Each Province—Other Sections Hear Valuable Papers on Live Subjects.

Yesterday afternoon the members of the Dominion Educational Association met again in several departments of work and discussed questions specially affecting these divisions. In the Industrial Education department a practical demonstration of manual training was given, when the boys appeared at the benches and showed how the work was done.

PROVINCE'S VIEWS ON ELEMENTARY WORK

In the elementary education department, which met in the Assembly hall at the rink, a representative from each province except Quebec and New Brunswick, presented the views of his province on what was aimed at as an elementary condition in the common public school.

Dr. A. H. MacKay, superintendent of education in Nova Scotia, told of the aim in that province, where education is organized in three divisions—eight years in the common school, four years in the high school and four years in the university. Universities were many and not under government control, but a policy which would control them was under consideration. Last year a technical college was founded. In the teaching of the "three R's" he considered that neatness and absolute accuracy should be insisted upon. A system of physical training was being introduced with the assistance of the Dominion government, based on the system adopted in England after five or six years' investigation, and it was compulsory on all teachers to train in the new system within three years.

A paper by R. H. Cowley, inspector of continuation classes in Ontario, was read by the secretary. Mr. Cowley pointed out that Ontario went far to make its school system democratic. The long-recognized standard subjects were still stressed, being taught much more intelligently than in the past. If more time was to be given to any one of the three R's it should be to reading rather than arithmetic. Manual work and nature study were encouraged both in town, in country, and domestic science, and school gardening were being fostered. Rural schools were being led to pay more attention to subjects which held up the value of country life and work. Recently, a ten-weeks' course had been given at the Ontario Agricultural College for the benefit of teachers-in-training. To lengthen out the time of school life continuation classes were conducted, which went as far as university training.

The Prairie's Aims.

S. E. Lang, of the Normal school, Winnipeg, said that in theory the elementary school consisted of eight grades, but in effect only an odd child was found in the upper grades in rural schools and in urban schools it was found that boys did not attend in grades seven and eight. As agriculture was largely the economic interest in the province, the attempt in rural schools was made to give the young people an intelligent appreciation of the work and achievements of the agriculturists. Practical efficiency of the social rather than the individualistic type was aimed at in Manitoba. In their utilitarian atmosphere they did not seem to find room for the theory that knowledge should be pursued for its own sake without regard to utility.

D. P. McColl, deputy commissioner of education in Saskatchewan, spoke in the absence of Hon. J. A. Calder, to whom he referred as one whose career as teacher, principal, inspector and deputy minister, made him peculiarly qualified to deal with the subject. The public school system had been organized on much the same lines as in Manitoba. It was really a continuation of the system in the old territories, which had worked out satisfactorily and for the benefit of the settlers. The secondary school system was organized in accordance with the act of 1907. Owing to climatic conditions children could not attend school from December, February in the rural districts, and short term schools were established. The school life was shorter than in any other province, 85 per cent. of the pupils leaving school at grade 5, which was about the third reader, or at thirteen years of age. Culture was not neglected in the province and the children were encouraged to continue their studies after leaving school.

Dr. A. Melville Scott, superintendent of city schools in Calgary, repeated as to Alberta all that Mr. McColl had said as to Saskatchewan as to conditions, rapidity of expansion and foreign population. What Alberta aimed at was the boys and girls might have the very best opportunities possible of obtaining a sound education; that they should have opportunities second to none on the continent. Proof of the province's determination was seen in the magnificent buildings they had and the salaries they paid their teachers. In the teaching in the elementary schools emphasis was laid on the essentials and the aim was to fit children for the life they would have to lead and to be good Canadians. The difficulty in keeping children in the schools was most noticeable, and the curriculum and time-table the department sought to shape so as to meet this condition. The adoption of free readers was working out satisfactorily, and it was found that the children took good care of their books.

Dr. Scott said he would like to see taught hygiene without physiology and with temperance. If introduced at all, introduced casually and the emphasis placed not where it is usually placed in temperance text-books. He would also like to see the elements of personal and domestic cleanliness inculcated, and the value of fresh air in a schoolroom taught, but by example rather than precept, and not laid down and prescribed by the department, which would kill it. Dr. Scott expressed the opinion that a great deal of what was done in schools, speaking generally, bore no relation to the world outside, and the life the pupil would have to live.

D. S. Mackenzie, Edmonton, deputy minister of education for Alberta, expressed his acquiescence with Dr. Scott.

British Columbia's Schools.

Inspector A. C. Stewart, Vancouver, explained to the delegates what the British Columbia school system was, pointing out how thoroughly the government assisted education in generous payment of teachers and erection of buildings in unorganized rural districts, and how efficient was the administration under school trustees in municipalities and cities.

An eastern delegate asked whether high schools were administered by a separate board.

Inspector Stewart replied that the one board supervised common and high schools. In the rural municipal schools an effort was now being made to have the preliminary and junior high school work taken up in one of the schools in the district.

Before the meeting closed officers for the elementary education department for the next term were elected, Isaac Gamble, Montreal, being chosen as president and J. B. Wallis, principal of Macphay school, Winnipeg, as secretary.

TRAINING TEACHERS FOR THE WORK

The inspection and training department of the association met in the Pemberton gymnasium yesterday afternoon.

J. B. Hales, of Portage la Prairie, Man., spoke on "The Making of a Principal of Schools for the Small Town." He said that while no one denied that the principalship of the small school was important, yet, judging by the proportion made for preparing men for the work, it would seem as if its importance were not fully appreciated. Small schools acted at once as the recruiting ground, and training schools for men who were to occupy positions of greater trust, yet the principals entered upon their work without any special training.

The principal of a village school was important not only for what he might become but for what he did. In rural districts, the greater percentage of training was given in the public schools, not in collegiate institutes. It was necessary, therefore, that better work should be done in these schools. That being the case, it followed that the teacher must have more thorough training.

The village principal must rely wholly upon himself. He must likewise be able to advise his assistants. Often he had much to contend with. The prejudice of cliques was stronger than the desire for public good, and parental discipline was lax.

Instead of a man thoroughly trained and carefully chosen, a man of liberal culture and wide experience filling this important position, it was often used as a stepping stone by ambitious youths aspiring to other callings, and a certificate of a department of education was all that was demanded. Thus, the great number of teachers dropping out from year to year, placed the schools largely in the hands of novices, while the work done reacted upon and injured the society.

Thorough Preparation.

The remedy for this unsatisfactory condition must be sought in more thorough preparation of principals. The non-professional training should not only be more thorough, but more directly along the line of the work to be taught.

To give a teacher the much-needed breadth of view, however, he should not only read along other lines than those connected with his work, but he should mix with men and try to see things from the view-point of others.

The professional training of a principal should be broader and deeper than that required of the ordinary public school teacher. It should include such things as supervision and school administration. To know the art of teaching as a science, he should have a knowledge of the history of educational movements.

To secure this thorough training several things would be necessary. To a first class certificate he should add a term of successful teaching in a graded school, and this non-professional training in the first place should differ from that given to men who intended to enter other callings.

One of the best means of attaining this would be to make use of existing institutions. It would mean: too great a waste if separate normal schools had to be established. The institution best fitted to do this work was the university, if developed along modern lines. This would mean a state institution broad enough to embrace every phase of human activity. Such an institution could do the work without unnecessary duplication of buildings, teachers, or even classes to any great extent.

The objection might be raised that men so trained would require a larger salary than the principals of the present day, but it was the lack of such training that constituted the greatest weakness of the modern school system. There had been much said and written

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Canifton, Ont.—"I had been a great sufferer for five years. One doctor told me it was ulcers of the uterus, and another told me it was a fibroid tumor. No one knew what I suffered. I would always be worse at certain periods, and never was regular, and the bearing-down pains were terrible. I was very ill in bed, and the doctor told me I would have to have an operation, and that I might die during the operation. I wrote to my sister about it and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Through personal experience I have found it the best medicine in the world for female troubles, for it has cured me, and I did not have to have the operation after all. The Compound also helped me while passing through Change of Life." Mrs. LETHIA BLAIR, Canifton, Ontario.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion and nervous prostration. It cures, but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to suffering women.

lately upon the necessity of raising the status of the teaching profession. If the standing of teachers were elevated, the profession would look after itself. A course of training which would insure earnest and competent men who had chosen teaching as a permanent calling was what was wanted, and salary and social recognition would be added to it.

Teachers' Institute.

A paper by Dr. A. G. Macdonald, inspector of schools, Antigonish, N. S., on "The Proper Conduct and Value of the Teachers' Institute," said the office of those who framed and formulated systems of national education was even higher and greater than those who made the nation's laws. For this reason the complicated loom on which the great fabric of Canadian nationhood was being woven could not be too carefully or nicely adjusted. The formative period of a nation occurred but once, and the destiny of a country might be said to lie in its schools. Canada's greatest treasure did not lie in her wheat fields, and in her natural wealth of mine and forest, and stream, but in her thousands of children. The youth of Canada trained in virtue, intelligence, in industry, would be Canada's greatest asset.

Turning to the subject of teachers' institutes, Dr. McKay said it was not one which opened up a very wide field for investigation. They were mere instrumentalities whereby links which were believed to be weak in the educational system were rounded off and brought into systematic relation with the system as a whole, and with the dominant ideas of the day. They never did, or attempted to do, any work that might not be done better by some other integral agency. Teachers' institutes would always be necessary until there were normal training schools and colleges throughout the different provinces.

Institutes aimed at special work in the different provinces. One took up literature, one the fine arts, etc., and there was a growing tendency to make studies in the science and art of teaching the dominant feature in institute work.

The idea of teachers' institutes originated in Hartford, Connecticut, in 1838. In Canadian provinces they had grown apace, and were now held annually for two or three days in every inspectional division. Their chief feature consisted in the reading and discussing of prepared papers covering a wide range of pedagogic and scholastic topics.

In some sections short training courses were held in connection with the institutes, which had proved very successful, and it was recommended that their establishment might become universal throughout the Dominion. A short discussion followed.

TEACHING OF LATIN IN THE SCHOOLS

A usually dry subject was yesterday afternoon so illuminated by Professor De Witt, of Toronto University, that it aroused much enthusiasm. The dead language was for short time made to live. Latin was for once interesting. This took place at the High School department, where Professor Brough presided.

Professor De Witt said he did not pose as one of the wise men of the east. He came to the west in all humility. His paper dealt with the methods used in teaching the subject in the United States. He referred to the fact that Canada was more like the United States than like England. British people coming here had to become like us. We did not become like them.

The professor then outlined the methods used by the Puritans. Latin was practically the only subject taught in those days, but Latin went out when Abe Lincoln came in. His speech at Gettysburg was the first unclassical speech that was ever widely read. The later revival in classical studies lasted for about one hundred years, after which it became worked out. A most notable change in the United States and one which was coming in Canada was the replacing of male teachers by women. The women were more successful than men in teaching. It became a problem in many schools to keep pupils employed in any way rather than to teach them anything useful. Women were often good teachers but he deplored the fact that there were too few men.

Comparison Made.

Making comparisons between American and Canadian professors, the speaker mentioned the fact that Americans seemed to work harder than their cousins, but it was often on the surface. There was practically no promotion in United States universities, largely because there was no publicity in it. It was not sounded in the newspapers.

In order to improve their positions American professors liked to appear in print. Numbers of articles were published just for the purpose of advertising the writers. Canadians often took the opposite extremes in these matters. To teach Latin interestingly it was necessary to know something of the modern classics. A man should attend conventions and read journals. Most of the American universities spent large sums in Latin and Greek books. In one case a train load of books came from Germany for one university.

The chief influences in classical life in the United States was the support of the managers of the universities; the reaction from the ultra-scientific studies; and the upspringing of a cultured class, competition having enlivened the instruction, rivalry of colleges that want live teachers rather than investigators; pensions make it possible to pension men whom they would not discharge.

The tendency of the new methods, however, were toward superficiality. At the same time it stimulated archeological study and the growth of museums, classical clubs and tours had grown up.

Teaching Was Good.

Whether teaching of Latin in the United States was good or bad, the teaching was alive and enthusiastic. Nothing was more dead than a dead teacher teaching a dead language.

See that the classics were in any danger. Greek was popular in Vancouver as a voluntary subject and the numbers taking that subject were increasing. Latin also was popular. There was no need to order the horses for it yet.

Professors Lang and Milner also took part in the discussion.

ROUTINE BUSINESS BEFORE COUNCIL

Order for New Rock Crusher Has Been Cancelled.

At a meeting of the city council held last night a number of routine matters were considered and disposed of.

Early in the proceedings his worship reported that he, acting in conjunction with the chairman of the streets, bridges and sewers committee and the engineer, had cancelled the order for the rock crusher given to Beale & Co., of Portland, Ore. Mayor Hall explained that when the contract was the representative of the company, it was on the understanding that the crusher was in Portland and would be shipped within a day or two.

A communication, however, just received that day had thanked the council for the order and given the information that the order had been sent on to the factory in the east.

On receiving that letter the order had been cancelled as it was given only because a quick delivery was expected.

Members of the council agreed that that was the understanding and at once endorsed by resolution the action of the committee.

Miss Agnes McSwain, stenographer at the city hall, tendered her resignation as she intended to leave the city. The resignation was accepted with regret, and it was decided to call for applications for a successor at once.

The question of what should be done with the vacant corner at the southeast end of the causeway was discussed a little in view of the fact that paving is about to begin. Nothing definite was decided on the point.

The committee to which the tenders for the paving of Wharf street had been referred reported that H. W. Canova's tender amounted to $20,838, while M.

Sabine and D. Stevens, tendered for $15,384. The contract was awarded to the latter.

Ald. Turner, just before adjournment, complained of the disgraceful condition in which the city yards of Yates street were kept.

Had all labor organizations combined and endorsed the presentation of "The Midnight Guest," the industrial problem play at Pantages this week, before the peoples of the earth, they could not have done a better stroke of missionary work. The splendid acting of Herbert O'Connor & Co. in this labor's dramatic masterpiece, brings out the whole story of the capitalist and labor conflict in all its intensity, and presents it in a way that has more effect than the work of fifty orators could do with speeches that ran twice the duration of the play. PROPOSES TO PAY WIVES FOR HOUSEWORK

Woman's Plea to Keep Her Sex Out of Competition in Business Life.

Berkeley, Cal., July 15.—That a partial solution of the problem arising from the entry of women into business life may be found in a system providing payment for housewives for domestic services rendered, is the opinion of Mrs. Ellen H. Richards, instructor of chemistry at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

During the course of a lecture to an audience of the University of California summer school, Mrs. Richards said: "We must come to a correct valuation of work done by women in the home. It is because no economic value has been placed on this work that women have turned to vocations that bring recompense. Women do not seek environments other than the home because they are more pleasant. On the contrary, they take up occupations less agreeable because in them their efforts are appreciated and rewarded."

NEW GRAND THEATRE.

The New Grand theatre this week offers one of the best shows in vaudeville of the year. Every act is up to the top standard. The headline is Les Floets Larella's acrobatic troupe of three girls, whose phenomenal exhibition draws round after round of applause. Tom McGuire has made a great hit with his Scotch songs. He is a favorite with hundreds staying at present in Victoria, and outside that is a good artist. He possesses a rich baritone voice and his rendering of Harry Lauder's songs is inimitable. Cogan and Bancroft on skates have one of the funniest turns and all considerably to the enjoyment of the audience with skating dances and comedy features. Georgia Davis and J. Watson Scott are a pair of clever actors in a musical jingle shown in three acts. A automobile song, some straight singing and music and an Indian dance and song comprise a good and well-received act. "The Advance Agent," one of those honest little plays in one act, is given by John Black, Maurice Frank and Pearl Foster. It is divided into comedy and pathos and the lines are good and the acting finished and clever. Thomas J. Price this week sings a new song well and the illustrations are well up to the Grand theatre's excellence. New motion pictures conclude the bill.

TUMBLERS OF ICE.

Ice would at first sight seem to be the most unsuitable substance to make tumblers from. Still a Dutch engineer, H. G. T. Hulzer, has proved the contrary.

In working out his process Hulzer has endeavored to perfect a tumbler which might present the drink in an agreeable form as possible while complying with all requirements of hygiene. The ideal, from the latter point of view, would obviously be a cheaply produced tumbler of ephemeral existence which after having once been used would have to be thrown away, its destiny being fulfilled.

Now, the ice tumbler complies most perfectly with all these desiderata. It has a conical wall three millimeters in thickness, which, however, grows gradually thicker in its lower part, being rounded off toward the bulb-shaped bottom, nine millimeters in thickness. The special form of the bottom has been chosen in order to prevent the tumbler from cracking or bursting off the bottom. The gradual thickening of the side walls was adopted with a view to allowing for the increased melting of the tumbler in its lower parts—due to the higher liquid pressure and longer contact of the drink.

The tumbler will hold one-fourth litre of liquid and its store of cold assures to the vessel and its contents a really surprising life. The process of manufacture makes the otherwise porous ice impervious to water, especially after adding some minute amounts of inoffensive viscous matter. From Technical World Magazine for August.

WEDDED LAST NIGHT AT HOME OF BRIDE

Mr. Henry Cathcart and Miss Harrison United in Marriage.

A quiet but very pretty home wedding took place last evening at the home of Mr. Wm. Harrison, 1026 Johnson street, when his eldest daughter, Miss Annie L. Harrison, was united in marriage with Mr. Henry Cathcart, of the Lands and Works Department.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was beautifully gowned in white net over taffeta, with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a beautiful bouquet. She was attended by her sister, Miss N. Harrison, wearing a pretty bridesmaid's dress, of fawn silk made in princess style. Mr. H. Harrison supported the groom, and the Rev. J. Logan, of Vancouver, performed the ceremony.

Immediately after the ceremony, at which only a few of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties were present, dainty refreshments were served from a table prettily decorated with pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Cathcart left on the night boat for Vancouver en route for the Sound cities, where the honeymoon will be spent. On their return they will take up their residence at 1209 Johnson street. The bride travelled in a handsome tailored suit of green cloth with becoming black picture hat.

TIMELY RECIPES

College Cakes.—Ingredients: One egg, its weight in butter, flour, and sugar; a little grated lemon, half a teaspoonful of baking-powder; flavoring, if liked. Method: Beat the butter and sugar to a cream; beat in the egg, add flavoring, and lastly, flour and baking-powder mixed. Put into patty-tins, and bake in a moderate oven fifteen minutes.

Baked New Potatoes.—Take one lb. of new potatoes, one egg, salt and pepper, a sprig of mint, and browned breadcrumbs. Boil potatoes with mint until tender, then strain and put to dry. Cut each in half, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Beat up the egg, and brush each piece with it; then cover it with breadcrumbs. Bake in a greased tin in quick oven for ten minutes.

Tinned Salmon.—Take a heaped tablespoonful of flour, and blend smoothly with a little milk or water; add to a pint of milk, and bring to the boil, stirring all the time. Put in a bit of butter, and pepper and salt, as for white sauce. Open the salmon, taking the edge of the clean off if possible. Cut out the contents in as large pieces as you can, turn gently into saucepan with the sauce, and let it heat through.

Birthday Cake.—Ingredients: Half a pound of flour, quarter of a pound of butter, quarter of a pound of sweet almonds, quarter of a pound of currants; quarter of a pound of suet, half a pound of sugar, one teaspoonful of baking-powder, two ounces of candied peel, one tablespoonful of brandy, two eggs, and a few drops of almond essence. Method: Cream butter with sugar, beat yolks of eggs, mix dry ingredients, and add to mixture. Beat all well, and add brandy and flavoring. Now stir in whites of eggs well beaten. Fill lined tin three parts full of mixture and bake one hour. Stick blanched almonds on top.

"THE SHOW GIRL."

Colonial Company Scores Another Success in Their Latest Play.

The Colonial Opera Company held up its standard last evening at the Victoria where they put on as their second bill the sparkling musical comedy, "The Show Girl." The "Show Girl" is one of those modern up-to-date musical comedies that consists largely of comedy and bright musical numbers and lovers of this kind of amusement will find much in the show to admire.

It is seldom that Victoria gets a company of this kind in the summer months, and that they appreciate it is evident by the liberal patronage which the company is getting here this week. The show last night pleased the large audience present and every musical number was recalled and repeated encores given. The chief comedy roles were assigned to Messrs. Burgess, Woods and Nelson, while Miss Esther Barton established herself as a comedienne of no mean ability. The show is funny from the start to the last curtain and kept the audience in a state of good humor.

Miss Nichols made a decided hit in her costume song, "Mr. Schneider" and the young ladies in their Dutch wooden shoes did some very clever dancing.

"The Show Girl" will be repeated to-night and on Saturday matinee and evening by popular demand the "Mikado" will be presented and in order to make this a gala event arrangements have been made to augment the company by the addition of several members of the Boston Grand Opera Company, which is at present stopping in the city.

Josef Rix, the musical director, under whom the production was given, did his work admirably and no small praise for the success of the entertainment was due to him.

"ALWAYS AFTER HIM."

How a Donegal Lady is Said to Have Proposed to an Irish Farmer.

Miss Mary Harkin, aged thirty-six, a Donegal lady, claimed £500 damages from John McCauley, a farmer, for breach of promise, at Belfast. The two, it was stated, kept company till about eight years ago, and had never spoken since.

"Did you propose to her or did she propose to you?" asked defendant's counsel.

"She proposed to me, certainly," replied the defendant.

His Honor: Did you accept her proposal? "At the time I did; I could not get rid of her," was the reply.

Amid roars of laughter, he said that the plaintiff was always "after him," and even came to the fields when he was working, and put her arms round his neck and kissed him.

A verdict was entered for the defendant on the ground that the action was barred by the statute of limitations.

Anty Drudge Gives the Conductor Pointers.

Conductor—"Beg pardon, ma'am, for dropping the nickel; I'll get it for you right away. Those gloves make my hands so clumsy, but if I didn't wear them my hands would be as dirty as my linen. What with handling money, and the pushing and shoving, my things get so dirty, my wife doesn't like to wash 'em."

Anty Drudge—"Well, that's a sad state of affairs. Get her to try Fels-Naptha and she shall complain no more about washing your clothes. No backaches from Fels-Naptha, or hard work either. Your wife can do a day's washing before noon if she uses it."

When Fels-Naptha soap is used the hanging out is the hardest part of the washing.

No boiling, either winter or summer. No fire to keep red hot; no tiring and tedious rub-a-dub on the washboard.

Fels-Naptha itself does the hardest part of the washday work—loosening the dirt.

All the human aid necessary is a few rubs, a quick rinsing and the clothes are ready for wringing.

Out they go on the line, sweeter and whiter than if a whole day were spent trying to grind out the dirt on a washboard.

CANADA'S FUTURE A BRIGHT ONE

JAMES W. ROBERTSON'S
INSPIRING ADDRESS

Closing Meeting of the Dominion Educational Association.

Had there been no other session of the Dominion Educational Association than the one held last night the gathering would have been a success, for the talk by Dr. Robertson, of the Macdonald Institute, was well worth crossing a continent to hear. It was not a masterpiece of composition or oratory, but it had the appeal which went to the heart of every person there, and will have more influence in a permanent way than anything which has been said throughout the week. It was plain to see that Professor Robertson had a full grasp of his subject, that his deductions were based on experience. There was a ring of truth which none could resist, and which not only carried conviction, but seemed to have an impelling force which will be potent in securing the carrying out of the suggestions made.

"The Future of the Rural Schools" was the subject, but it was plain to see that the professor was often talking about the city school and the conditions which obtain there, perhaps more often than he was about the rural schools.

After being introduced by Dr. Robinson, superintendent of education for British Columbia, Dr. Robertson said it was very pleasant to be once more in British Columbia and to note the great progress which had been made. Referring to a compliment paid him by the chairman, he said he was glad that he stood for a movement which was rendering the country a great service. Nothing affected the country so much as the patient labor of the teacher in developing the intellect of the child.

The theme on which he was to speak might seem far-fetched in this country, but he thought they would join him in the opinion that it was a subject which affected everybody. The improvement of rural conditions were very important. Children should be brought up in a garden of flowers, for that was the Eden of which they read. They wanted a better child with a better chance on earth.

After awhile the C. P. R. might be only two streaks of rust, but the child life of the country would continue. Earth and heaven might not be so far apart as some people thought. At the Macdonald college they had a new earth wherein dwelt righteousness.

Education for the improvement of rural conditions did not apply only to the out of doors, but it meant improvement of the whole conditions of life. The earth he thought was not a dead thing. The mass of the people must always live on land, and they should have the best that could be given them. If the mass was lifted up to the present peaks, then where would the peaks be?

Education to improve the conditions of life in Canada should be undertaken because we had such a mighty heritage. When before did 7,000,000 people own half a continent? It was worth spending one's time to help build up a nation from these.

Did the homes match the beauties of nature in this land was a question they should ask themselves. If not, there was a problem to be worked out. The nation had all the prospects of youth. He liked the expansive use of language used in this country. This was the joy of being a teacher in a young nation. It was better to teach here than anywhere. Here, at the making of a nation whose people were the heirs of all the ages, untrammelled and free. Teachers were the natural leaders of the people. Some people thought the greatest problems were for the poor, but the greatest problems were for the rich. It was important that people should support their own schools as it was to educate the child.

No nation spent as little on their schools, comparatively, as Canadians. The children's house should be the best in the city, because children were the most precious things in the world. Where people lived in rich houses and the school was unadorned and unkempt, there was something wrong.

There was, the speaker found, a lack of appreciation between city and country people. There should be competition with good will throughout the country. Each played his part in the nation's progress.

"When we get old what is there that is really worth while?" inquired the professor. Was it having downed someone else? The best they could do would be to see that some children had a better chance and more love in their lives.

There was the problem resulting from alien peoples, but this was known as a land of liberty. That was why the people of the United States were coming yearly 60,000 strong. Here there was respect of law. The schools should see that this was carried out. This was the land of opportunity for law and the children.

Canada was looked upon as a fine place for the boys and girls. It was the duty of the people here to see that that was true.

A thousand miles from Halifax westward clover blossoms were enriching the land, a beautiful and fertile country. Then a thousand miles of waste land, which was largely timber land necessary for the moisture. It was necessary to conserve this. A thousand miles of prairie came next, where for millions of years the richness of ages had been gathered. This was worth conserving by an intelligent agriculture. Last came 500 miles of scenery, mountains bursting with minerals and rich valleys between. If they did not produce a race of prophets, poets and leaders; where would they find them?

The C.P.R. always chose good positions for its offices. The people of Canada have chosen a fine location for their homes. Only seven millions were here now, but very soon there would be thirty millions.

The professor then referred to the fact that improving rural conditions was more than farming. The land was the most important part of it, but had the farming of the nation of Quebec conducted as that on their large fields at the Macdonald Institute, the income of the farmers would have been more than double what it was. He gave instances to show what might be accomplished from intelligent farming. The institute wanted to train leaders who would go out into the country districts and spread the knowledge they had gained.

Education he defined as a series of experiences, not sessions in schools, leading to an increase in intelligence and good will. Ignorance, helplessness and selfishness were the opposites to education, and fitted a man to be a companion of the devil.

The first culture was the culture of the earth by labor. The result was crops for profit, pleasure and service. There was the suppression of weeds, which was a part of this culture.

"The school will later have boys do more in co-operation and companionship," the lecturer said. "He who one person in five is teaching at school, abundantly, joyously happy."

Manual training, he continued, was put into the schools to teach the children to do things. Twenty-five thousand boys were conserving the love of manual labor. That was worth a lot. It formed the habit of being happy in school, abundantly, joyously happy. There are so many of these bottles full of gold that no one ever takes the trouble to count them.

Nicely polished nuggets are also arranged in heaps about the bottom of the cage. Shining brightly in the well-lighted building they make a beautiful display. The average visitor wonders how thieves are kept out of this tempting pile of wealth. The secret is that no man could ever get at it. It is enclosed by a double cage of strong iron bars in the day time. At night it is lowered into a vault beneath the floor of the building. This vault is fitted up with electric wires charged with 2,000 volts of electricity. Any hapless man who placed a hand on one of those wires would be electrocuted.

In addition to this, burglar alarms are in operation in all parts of the safe. The entrance of any man into that pile of wealth would mean his instant death and also would notify the guards of the building.

The nuggets and gold bricks came from various camps, chiefly from Nome, Klondike, and Fairbanks. Most of the metal is placer gold, but a considerable portion is from the quartz mines.

The largest nugget of the collection is called the "Phantom Nugget," because of a dream the wife of one of the first owners had of the claim, which told of its existence. Before he discovered this wonderful piece of native gold the claim was sold several times. The nugget was finally secured by the Pioneer Mining Company, which had secured the claim. In the drifting operations of its first owners, poor men who were making a hazardous living, they came within six feet of the spot where it was located. They quit work just one day too soon and abandoned the claim for the year.

MILLION AND QUARTER IN YELLOW GOLD

Fortune in Nuggets Displayed at the A.-Y.-P. Exposition.

Seattle, Wash., July 16.—A million and quarter in pure shining, yellow gold.

Exposed to the eyes of the visitors at the Alaska building of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, securely entrenched behind a double steel cage, is a fortune in nuggets and bricks.

Dozens of gold bricks, larger than paving blocks, lie in the centre of the exhibit of wealth. Surrounding the whole on a special rack are five large nuggets. The one which occupies the middle is worth nearly four thousand dollars.

Around the outside of the display is a frame of gold nuggets in bottles. There are so many of these bottles full of gold that no one ever takes the trouble to count them. Nicely polished nuggets are also arranged in heaps about the bottom of the cage. Shining brightly in the well-lighted building they make a beautiful display.

CONTROL OF TEST CRICKET MATCHES

How Teams Are Selected—Explanation Issued by English Committee.

The board of control of test cricket matches has offered an official explanation as to its constitution and the method adopted for the selection of English teams.

The board of control of test matches at home, beyond the fact that it was called into existence by the M. C. C., and includes its representatives, has nothing to do with the M. C. C. committee of the president of the M. C. C. (in the chair), five of its club committee, and one representative from each of the ten first class counties that came out at the top of the last season's list. At the present time the secretary of the M. C. C. is acting as secretary of the board of control.

The following are some of the resolutions which have been passed regulating Australian test matches in England:

The umpires shall be appointed by ballot, and shall be paid £10 per match. All moneys taken at stands and enclosures at the test matches shall, together with the gate money in respect thereof, less the Australian half of the gross gate money and less such expenses as are authorized by the board, be placed in the hands of the board for distribution as follows: 30 per cent. to the grounds where the matches are played, in equal shares; 10 per cent. to counties that take part in the second division of the county championship; and 60 per cent. to be divided equally among the first-class counties and the M. C. C. But should there be a loss on these matches such loss shall be divided among the said first and second-class counties and the M. C. C. in the proportion of their respective interests.

A sub-committee of three shall be appointed by the board to select England teams. Such sub-committee shall (1) appoint a chairman, who shall have casting vote; (2) shall co-opt two amateurs out of the first six selected to play for England in the match immediately forthcoming; (3) in the event of no amateur being selected in the first six, the said committee of three shall select all players; (4) that if only one amateur shall be selected the committee of four shall select all the players; (5) that the said committee of three shall in each match select the captain.

The remuneration of players and reserve players shall be £20 per match. Amateurs' expenses to be allowed are railway fares and a sum at the rate of 30s. a day, not exceeding five days for each match.

The amount to be allowed for lunch will be £10 a day.

REFORM SCHOOLS THAT DO NOT REFORM BOYS

Individual Treatment a Prime Element in All Reform.

Hundreds of boys fill our reformatories all over the country, and the question that some of our leading men ask is, "What shall we do with them when they are turned loose? How shall we place them in a position to earn a good honest living?" It is a puzzle. It is a hard question to answer. It has been well said that it is a great deal easier to prevent crime than to reform the criminal. And if the early education of one-half of the boys who fill our institutions were not neglected they would not be there, says a writer in the Boston Transcript.

I have met hundreds of men in different prisons who have all sprung from these minor institutions. If I had a boy I would try all kinds of methods before I would send him to one of these institutions, because it sent there he mingles with hundreds of other boys, some a great deal older, and in time becomes thoroughly corrupt. Take any boy at a certain age and you can mould him, you can develop his moral character, and you can form certain traits in that boy that will bring out pure, true manhood in time to come.

Coming down Washington street, one evening last winter, I saw a crowd of boys numbering about seventy-five standing in line waiting for one of the cheap theatres to open. Some of these little fellows were half-clad. I saw quite a few whose shoes were in a very bad state. There they stood, shivering in the cold, waiting to get a cheap seat in this theatre. The play was of the blood and thunder sort, where there was much shooting, where the hero kills a number of men, a sort of border bandit. Now this is demoralizing to youth, and a great many of these boys are led into crime by witnessing such scenes.

Some of these boys will do anything to get money, get into one of these cheap shows. Lots of young criminals can be found here, where they get a sort of inspiration that helps them on their downward career.

We should have more boys' clubs in Boston, good clean places of amusement where the best in a boy can be brought out, where his moral training may be taken in hand by good, competent teachers, and those traits formed in him that will make his after life a blessing instead of a curse.

We have only one or two places in Boston where anything is being done for this kind of boy, and we should have more, for we surely need them. Trace the history of the hardened criminal and you will find, nine times out of ten, that the fault lay in his early life. I speak from experience.

I was raised a child of the street, brought up in a boarding house, and at the age of fourteen, saw things that would appal a man of forty. If I saw any money lying round I took it. There was no restraining hand to stop me. The only hard part of it was if I got caught there was no moral fear.

It is a pitiful sight to see a boy brought into court by a big, strong policeman. It does not seem to have the element of kindness in it that is going to save the boy. And again, it will always be a standing question whether these reformatories do the work they claim. If a boy will not be guided by a good mother or a good father, then something has to be done. I have suggested the American navy. If they will not take the wayward boy, then of course the only solution is the reform school. I do not mean to say that some of these institutions do not help a great many boys, and in some cases make thorough reformations. But I do say that a number of boys who have been inmates of these institutions do not reform, and I have met quite a number. I do not know the reason why, but I would suggest that while they are in these institutions it is well worth trying the great element of kindness, tempered with discipline, working on the moral nature of the boy. It may sometimes seem hopeless, but in the end may be a huge success.

Let me cite one instance of a case that I know to be absolutely true. Quite a number of years ago two boys were arrested in Boston for breaking and entering a store in the West End and stealing a lot of stuff that was of no value. One of these boys had a good home, good surroundings, had been well raised. His people were quite wealthy. The other boy had no home, was a child of the streets. Both of his parents were dead and he was stopping here, there or anywhere. Both were convicted of the crime. One boy had friends, who interceded for him, and as a sort of mild punishment he was sent to a private institution where his board was paid and he was kept there for some time. The other boy, who had no friends and no one to intercede for him, was sent to the house of correction at South Boston for two years. And right here a strange thing happened. The boy who went to the private institution came out after a while a great deal worse than when he went in. His parents sent him off to the country, thinking that he might do some good. But the seed was sown. He went from bad to worse. Nobody could do anything with him. He was soon arrested for a daring robbery and received a sentence of three years in state's prison. After he came out he continued his life of crime and soon became a professional thief. He went all over the country, did time in three or four of the western prisons and to-day is doing a life sentence in Auburn penitentiary for bank robbery and murder.

And what became of the other boy? Just the opposite. He served his time in the house of correction, and while there the chaplain became interested in him, saw some good qualities in the boy, found out something of his early life and saw that he was simply a victim of circumstances, more sinned against than sinning. He got him a good home with a certain business man in Boston, who sent him to school, and after a time gave him a responsible position in his employ. The lad worked there faithfully for some years, and to-day is one of the partners in that firm and one of the leading men in business circles here in Boston.

Strange story, is it not? One boy having everything that he wanted; the other boy a street wail. Still the boy who had everything became a hardened criminal, and the other boy, who had been cast upon the street, who had no home, no friends, as soon as the opportunity opened, when someone became kindly interested in him, when he knew he had a friend, branched out into good, clean, honest manhood. There was something lacking in the first boy, and I think it could be traced to heredity. I think it was the sin of the father visited on the children. I think there was something in his parents' early life. There is a wise saying and a true one, that as you live your life clean and wholesome, keeping away from dirt, doing unto others as you would that they should do unto you, wise in all things, your boy will come pretty near going the same way. This may not be true always, but on the whole, I think it is well worth trying.

SURVEYING GAME

PARK IN ELK VALLEY

- Fernie Council Increases Salaries of City Clerk and Engineer.
Fernie, July 15.—Jack Lewis and James Bates have left to lay out the boundary lines of the Elk Valley lately selected by the government. They will have a rough trip before they and expect to be absent for about a month. They will commence operations at Broyle creek, north of Michel, and in addition to marking out the boundaries of the reserve they will make a map of the park.

- At the last meeting of the city council the salaries of the city clerk and city engineer were each raised to $150 per month owing to the great increase of work of the respective departments. It was also decided to appoint a fire warden for the city park at a salary of $75 per month, the expense to be equally borne by the city and the Elk Lumber Company. A motion was carried that the City of Fernie should be asked to allow the new Fernie Annex to be taken into the city limits. The mayor was authorized to take up the matter of the bridge across the Elk river with the government agent with the view to having the government pay half the cost of the same. Building operations still continue active.

TWO MORE FURNACES

AT GRANBY ENLARGED

- Capacity of Six of Battery of Eight Has Been Increased.
Phoenix, July 15.—Two more new furnaces are expected to be completed and in operation by the 15th inst., at the Granby smelter. This will be six of the battery of eight furnaces at the smelter enlarged, with a capacity equal to that which the eight furnaces formerly had, and the ore shipments and smelter treatment will soon show a big increase. It will probably be October before the last two furnaces are enlarged and in operation, but by October Granby tonnage will be fracturing all previous records. The last shipments of 22 tons from the Kettle mine, on the west fork of the Kettle river, to the Trail smelter netted $1,293.90. Since 1904 the Sally has shipped 31 cars of ore and has made an average of a net return of about $115 per ton.

REDEMPTION GOING TO FAIR

- Seattle, Wash., July 15.—A sham battle with 200 Redmen in costume, portraying some of the exciting incidents of life on the plains, will be the big feature of Redmen's Day at the exposition on July 22nd. A. L. Payne, who has charge of the arrangements, reports that a special train of members of the order is coming from Portland, a delegation of 300 will come from Bremerton and special excursions will be run from Tacoma, Bellingham, Everett and other points in the Northwest.

LISBON BEGGAR'S HOARD.

Old Man Worth $25,000 Who Went About in Rags.

- An aged beggar named Manacas, a notorious figure in Lisbon, has been found to be a rich man, having hoarded up large sums while going about in rags.
He lived in a filthy hovel, apparently in the deepest poverty. The sanitary officials took steps to clear up his abode, which reeked with the year's accumulations of rags and other street refuse, despite the pitiable appeals of the beggar.
As the bundles of rags were being removed, showers of gold and silver coins fell to the ground, so much that six bags were filled. In addition to the coins, which were chiefly Portuguese and Spanish, government securities and shares in different companies were discovered, the whole totalling over $25,000. A bank book was also found showing a deposit of $5,000. Inquiry further revealed that Manacas owned four houses. His fortune is estimated at $25,000.
Manacas now refuses to leave his hovel, fearing the wrath of the indignant people.

Many Islands Will Send Exhibition to Annual Fair at Ganges Harbor.

(Special Correspondence.)

- Ganges, July 15.—At the Vesuvius public school on Saturday an election was held to fill the vacancy caused by the expiration of J. Norton's term of office. The candidates were A. J. Smith and J. Norton, Sr. Mr. Norton was elected by a majority of two.
The Salt Spring Athletic Association is in a very prosperous condition. Its membership is steadily increasing and within a very short time it will be making itself felt in Vancouver Island athletics. The football branch of the club is looking for more teams to conquer. Three victories over South Salt Spring and two over Pender Island, makes the Salt Spring team the premier aggregation in the island's district.
It is expected that the Ganges Harbor fair this autumn will surpass all previous ones. All of the smaller islands will send exhibits, which will add greatly to the success of the show.

STRIKE CANCELLED.

- Pittsburg, July 16.—Consequent upon an agreement reached late yesterday, the executive board of the local coal miners union cancelled a strike declared yesterday morning by the employees of the Pittsburg Coal Company. It is announced that 14,000 men will return to work to-day.
The monument erected at Nimes, France, to Bernard Laster, the defender of Alfred Dreyfus, was demolished Wednesday night. The bust of M. Laster was broken to pieces with a hammer.

TACOMANS CELEBRATE

AT THE EXPOSITION

Thousands of People From City of Destiny Visit
Seattle.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Seattle, Wash., July 16.—Seattle today is crowded with the greatest throng of visitors that has ever invaded its borders. It is Tacoma day at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition and thousands of persons from the city across the Sound began arriving by steamer and by every means of land transportation early this morning. The stream of visitors continued to pour into the city throughout the forenoon. Practically every business house in Tacoma closed to-day.

At 2 o'clock a monster parade formed in Pioneer Place and with flying colors and stirring music, marched through the principal downtown streets amid continuous and enthusiastic cheering by the multitude of Seattleites that lined the walks. At the head of the parade rode Mayor Miller, of Seattle, and Mayor Linck, of Tacoma, in an automobile.

The parade disbanded at Yeiser Way
and Third avenue and the marchers boarded cars for the exposition. On arriving at the main entrance the Tacomans were met by officials of the exposition and, headed by a band, were escorted in-state within the grounds.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, the visitors assembled at the Washington state building, where speeches of welcome were delivered.

Following the speech-making the Tacoma visitors formed in line and with several bands of music playing,
marched about the grounds, the procession ending at the natural amphitheatre, where a mass band concert was held.

Ald. Stewart said that if they went to Goldstream the city would have just a little over 1,000 horse-power. If they went to Sooke lake it would not be worth considering.

Mr. Taylor pointed out that it applied only to Sooke lake.

Members of the council under these circumstances thought the clause was not worth considering.

It was decided to waive all objection
to the clause relative to units of power.

On the question of competitive companies members of the council insisted that an agreement must give the city
the right to grant a charter to any other company to come in at any time.
The council further placed itself on record as not being anxious to bonus any other company. That would, it was felt, be giving assistance to bring another company in.

His Worship suggested that if a company did propose to come in to compete against the B. C. Electric Company it would be of necessity such a strong one that it would not be anxious for such assistance as a bonus or free water.

Ald. Henderson wanted to know if Goldstream was taken over by the city, and the surplus power was not taken by the city could the city sell the water to another company for power?

Ald. Raymond thought that would be competition.

Other members of the council, however, thought there would be no restriction from selling water for power purposes, as the Esquimalt company was now doing.

Mr. Taylor said that he did not think that there would be any trouble in reaching an agreement on the points between them.

He was accordingly authorized to proceed with the negotiations looking to that end.

CHILDREN'S TEETH RUINED BY CANDY

Seattle Dentist Would Have Children Taught the Use of the Toothbrush.

(Times Leased Wire.)

Seattle, Wash., July 16.—Candy is working appalling results among school children, according to a statement by Dr. F. E. O'Connell, of Seattle, before the convention of the Washington State Dental Society, in session in this city.

"There is not a school house in this city that is not surrounded with at least half a dozen candy shops," said Dr. O'Connell, "and to this fact must be attributed the prevalence of bad teeth among the city children."

"What we need to do is to thoroughly educate every one in the use of the various prophylactic measures. People must be taught the use of the toothbrush. In teaching them the care of their teeth we can do more good than with the finest mechanical skill after they are spoiled."

This morning's session of the society was given over to addresses and discussions of technical matters pertaining to the dental profession, and this afternoon clinics will be held.

TO BUILD MODERN WORKS.

Moncton, N. B., July 15.—The new I.
C. R. freight car and passenger car repair shop to be built in St. John will be of the most modern and advanced style, according to plans now on file
at the chief engineer's office of the I.
C. R. here, which indicate that the building will in every way meet the requirements necessary. The new building will be 125 feet long and 45 feet wide. It will be a wooden frame of one story. There will be a wheel pit where the wheels can be conveniently taken off and replaced on the cars.

Owner Shredder Not Satisfied With the Work of Hensling.

Portland, Ore., July 16.—Outfielder
Garry, of the Portland Colts, and Pitcher Hensling, of the Tacoma team, are to-day men of leisure with not a single worry so far as the great American game is concerned, for they were presented with walking papers after yesterday's game in which they both participated.

George W. Shredder, owner of the Tacoma club, says he is going to get a little new blood into the team in the hope of crawling "out of the cellar."
He has been assured that the Butler,
who jumped the team some time ago,
and Catcher Dushwood, will return.
Hensling will be returned to Vernon,
and Garry probably will return to his home in California.

COAST ARTILLERY RESERVE.

Four Companies Are Now in Camp at Fort Worden.

Port Townsend, Wash., July 16.—By the side of the Coast Artillery corps garrison of Fort Worden, 250 tired Washington guardsmen, comprising the first, second,
third and fifth companies of the recently organized Coast Artillery reserve of the state, are camped about the big fortification guns to-day.

The assembling of the state's artillery corps brings together the companies of Tacoma, Bellingham, Everett and Snohomish.

INTERVIEW TAFT ON TARIFF.

Congressmen Desire Raw Material in Their Districts Placed on Free List.

Washington, D. C., July 16.—A delegation of 23 Republican congressmen to-day visited President Taft to plead with him to use his influence to have raw materials in their respective districts placed on the free list. Congressman Young, of Michigan, acted as spokesman, but the majority of the visitors expressed their views briefly.
The president gave the lawmakers little encouragement, but listened attensively to their arguments. He dismissed them with the promise that he would investigate the subject.

FINDS MINISTER AT LAST.

Washington, D. C., July 16.—According to a statement issued to-day at the White House, Chas. Crane, of the big Chicago elevator manufacturing concern bearing his name, has accepted the post of minister to China, and that the Chinese government is being con-

FATAL FALL.

Man Plunges to Bottom of Dry Dock at Puget Sound Navy Yard.

Navy Yard, Puget Sound, July 16.—Losing his balance while crossing the dry dock catwalk here yesterday, Chauncey C. Stubbs, of Seattle, aged 76, plunged to his death on the cement bottom of the dry dock, 46 feet below. Stubbs, accompanied by his daughter, was on a sightseeing trip about the yards.

Seed Cake.—One pound of flour, half a pound of butter, half a pound of sugar, three eggs, two teaspoonfuls of caraway seeds, a pinch of salt, a little milk, one teaspoonful of baking-powder. Cream the butter and sugar together, then add the yolks of the eggs,
and by degrees mix in the flour, caraway seeds, salt, and milk, and baking-powder. Beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, and add them last; stir very lightly, and bake in a buttered tin
for an hour and a half.
